

Date: November 30th, 2015

All of our products are RoHS compliant to Directive 2011/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 July 2011 on the restriction of the use of lead, mercury, cadmium, hexavalent chromium, polybrominated biphenyls and polybrominated diphenyl ethers. These chemicals are not intentionally used in the manufacture of products and there should be no incidental contamination during their manufacture.

Our suppliers have similarly indicated that these chemicals are not used in the manufacture of their products. No testing has been performed by Barcodes West to determine if these chemicals are present in the products.

If you require specific information regarding a product produced, please contact Barcodes West and request the information.

Sincerely,

Jason Golding
